NOVEMBER 2021

The Most Dangerous Time to Drive

As the Days Get Shorter, Take Extra Care On the Road

- When Daylight Saving Time ends—at 2:00 am, Sunday, November 7—many people will be spending more time driving in the dark. Our depth perception, color recognition and peripheral vision can be compromised in the dark.
- Even with high-beam headlights on, visibility is limited to about 500 feet (250 ft for normal headlights) which allows less time to react to something in the road, especially when driving at higher speeds.
- Take care to combat these issues and be safe out there.

DID YOU KNOW.....

Astronauts aboard the Apollo 11 couldn't get life insurance

The Apollo Astronauts were unable to qualify for life insurance and did not have insurance with NASA. So before their fateful flight, they resorted to 'insurance autographs', signing them just before launch. It was in the expectation that the value would skyrocket in the event of their deaths.
